DOTS N' BOXES

With a friend, take turns adding one line between two dots. Whoever completes a 1×1 box, place your initials in the box. The game ends when no more lines can be placed. The winner is the player with the most initialled boxes.

A large grid of 20 rows and 30 columns of dots, intended for the Dots n' Boxes game. A single vertical line has been drawn between the 27th and 28th columns in the first row.
